Hobbes Crochet Pattern

Because this doll is striped and I needed the color changes to line up, I joined rounds as opposed to crocheting in continuous rounds.

For all R1s: Join the end of the 1st round with a sl st into the 1st st and then ch 1

R2 onwards: Skip last st and joined the with a sl st in the ch 1 of the previous round.

Changing colors:

If changing colors within a round, switch your yarn color before you complete the last sc.

If changing color at the end of the round, switch yarns before you sl st in the ch 1 of the previous round and then ch 1 with the new color.

switch colors before completing the last sc

skip the last st and sl st in ch 1 of previous round

ch 1 and mark

at the end of the row, skip last st and sl st in ch 1 of the previous round

ASSEMBLY

Sew nose and mouth to the muzzle with black yarn. At the request of the client, I sewed a smile on instead of Hobbes' naturally sad mouth.

Pin the muzzle to the head and sew the eyes on over 4 rows. Sew muzzle on. Bottom of muzzle must line up with last row of the head.

Stuff all the parts as you wish and sew the belly on. 1st row of belly must line up with top of the body and bottom of the muzzle.

Sew the head stripes on the top of the head. Sew ears over stripes.

Sew the head to the body making sure the bottom of the muzzle and the top of the belly line up. If it ends up looking a bit messy, you can cover it with the scarf later on :)

(I pinned all the face parts first until it all looked right to me before sewing)
